

Adam Leger is the Vice President of Operations for Landscape Workshop, where he oversees operations across seven markets in the Southeast and Midwest, including Nashville, Huntsville, Birmingham, Montgomery, Auburn, Columbus (GA), Northwest Arkansas, and Kansas City. A third-generation landscape professional, Adam holds a Horticulture degree from Auburn University and is passionate about developing people within the green industry. He serves on the Workforce Council for the National Association of Landscape Professionals and is dedicated to helping others discover meaningful careers in landscaping. Adam lives in Birmingham, Alabama with his wife and two children.